Takeaways:

1. The love of your parents and of your heavenly Father comes in many forms all at the same time.
2. Embrace discipline, it's not only good for us, but it's out of love that it's given. Not disciplining our children will have dire consequences.
3. Live at peace with one another and be holy, don't think short term.

Reflection Questions:

1. What discipline/punishment have you had in the past that you now have a better perspective of? Share.
2. Parents: What can you improve on with your approach to discipline? Children: How can you better receive discipline in the future?
3. What steps can you take to live in peace with one another?
